The same source advised that MR. STANKOVIC, former cook at the Ambassador's residence, frequently became infuriated at the demands made upon him by both the Ambassador and the Ambassador's wife. STANKOVIC continually complained of his unjust treatment and as a result of this he was ordered here on April 6, 1951, to Yugoslavia aboard the Yugoslav ship, S. S. HRVATSKA.

T-2, of known reliability, advised that information has been received from Yugoslavia indicating that MR. DANCVIC is presently willing the services of Yugoslavia, unable to obtain a position due to an unfavorable report sent to the Yugoslav Government concerning him by Ambassador PETROVIC.

T-3, of known reliability, advised that Ambassador POPOVIC is a very vain and arrogant person who demands constant attention from his servants and fellow workers. POPOVIC, who fought in the Spanish Revolution and later for the Partisans, has assumed a pompous and victorious attitude.

T-3 further advised that there is obviously trouble between the Ambassador and his wife, VJ. M., which is probably the result of Ambassador POPOVIC indulging in extramarital activities which have come to the attention of VJ. M. The money allotted to the Ambassador and his wife from the Yugoslav Government includes a sum which is to be used to maintain the Ambassador's residence. Due to the present strained relations between the Ambassador and his wife, neither will appropriate the necessary funds to operate the residence and as a consequence the Ambassador's household is frequently without food and supplies.

T-4, of known reliability, advised that Ambassador PETROVIC criticized the United States in its attitude towards the American Negroes. In this regard source advised that Ambassador PETROVIC and other Yugoslav Communist officials treat people under their supervision worse than source has ever observed anyone in the United States being treated.

T-4 further related that TONIKA URBANIC, Cook at the Ambassador's residence and wife of the caretaker, M. TONIKA URBANIC, has not received her salary for the past four months. Source believes that this is due to the fact that the Ambassador has become aware of the fact that TONIKA has in her possession luxury bonds, the possession of which has infuriated the Ambassador.

T-3, previously mentioned, advised that ANTON JUDIC, Chauffeur and Informant for Ambassador PETROVIC, recently went through the effects of the U.S. MARINES while they were away and discovered $500.00 in savings along with the luxury bonds previously mentioned. JUDIC readily admitted to PETROVIC that he was aware of the fact that U. S. A. C. and his wife had in their possession luxury bonds and $500.00 and that the possession of such was contrary to the Communist doctrine.

T-1 advised that the Ambassador's wife and her sister, KIDA KU CYC, are both very seditic individuals who seem to take pleasure in the misery of others. The Ambassador's wife has expressed herself as being allergic to children, a recent example being that Mrs. V. L. MIT, wife of William V. L. MIT who is in the United States working out various loans with the International Bank recently stayed at the Ambassador's residence for a few days but after W.L. MIT had continually made disparaging remarks concerning the children, it was necessary for Mrs. V.L. MIT to find other accommodations.

T-1 advised that Ambassador POPOVIC continues to uphold the principles of Communism and detests anything which resembles democracy. In this regard source cited the following incidents:

On the evening of September 17, 1951, MUDJAH DIMITRIJA, former president of the National Bank of Yugoslavia gave a speech at the embassy. All of the embassy personnel were required to attend this meeting to listen to the speech to be given by Dimitrija. The topic discussed by him was the economic condition of Yugoslavia. In Dimitrija's speech, he indicated that the Yugoslav Government has possibly gone back to the Capitalistic form of Monetary reconstruction in order to try and straighten out the serious economic plight in which Yugoslavia found itself today. During the course of this speech, it was very noticeable that Ambassador POPOVIC was very upset and angry at the trend of the speech as it did not follow the Communist Line. The Ambassador at one point interrupted Dimitrija to ask a question concerning the Yugoslav Government. The Ambassador asked why the Government had found it necessary to return to a Capitalistic form of economic recovery. Dimitrija was evasive in his answer to this question which only helped to infuriate the Ambassador.

T-1 also related that Ambassador POPOVIC, for all indications, is just as much in favor of the Communist regime in Russia as he was before the TITO-STALIN split. POPOVIC has been a Communist for many years and was indoctrinated and trained in Russian Communist Schools. Source was of the opinion that the United States may live to regret the present economic and military aid which they are presently extending to Yugoslavia. He based his opinion on the general attitude of Ambassador POPOVIC which source maintains is an attitude of complete hate and distrust for the United States and complete faith in the Communist Regime in Russia. Source continued that the words of the former Counselor Dr. SLAVKOZEC are still vivid in that on numerous occasions he had made the statement that the Yugoslavians know what they were to do in that they would milk the United States to whatever extent they could to serve their own purposes and in return would do absolutely nothing for the United States. Source advised that further indication as to what Ambassador POPOVIC really feels was also indicated by his remarks concerning the recent Japanese Peace Treaty. Ambassador POPOVIC at that time related that the United States would live to regret its treatment of the Russians in the last Japanese Peace Conference. The Ambassador indicated that all Asia is in favor of Moscow and not in favor of the United States. POPOVIC was formerly a General in the Yugoslav Partisan Army during World War II. In the event of another war, POPOVIC, according to T-1, would undoubtedly be a leader of the Yugoslav Army. Under no conditions could Tel picture POPOVIC leading a section of the Yugoslav Army to fight side by side with the United States but being a confirmed Communist would undoubtedly fight on the side of the Communists. Tel continued that there are undoubtedly many members of TITO's party who feel the same way; consequently the United States cannot count on the support if and when Russia attacks the free world.

Source continued that Yugoslavia's present economic plight will continue to exist as long as the Communist regime is still in power. This form of Government leads to so much waste and inefficiency that no country under such a regime could ever become prosperous. Citing an example of this, source advised that Mr. STANISLOV ZORE, former Comptroller at the Yugoslav embassy, is presently the assistant to the Minister for International Trade. Source advised that ZORE was given such a position due to his high rank in the Communist Party; however, his background and training do not qualify him for such a position. This is just one of thousands of examples as to how Communist Party members are given positions in the Government for which they are totally unqualified.

Concerning Ambassador POPOVIC's attitude towards the recent Japanese Peace Treaty, T-5, of whom reliability, advised that when last contacting POPOVIC he expressed the opinion that the treaty was a "terrible treaty and another example of American imperialism." POPOVIC also stated that the United States only wanted a foothold in Asia and no one is happy about the treaty. The Japanese had suffered enough through their six years of occupation by the Americans. Source continued that POPOVIC is definitely the least favorable toward policies of the United States of any of the Yugoslav officials known to T-5.

T-5 advised that a direct question was put to Ambassador POPOVIC concerning the sincerity of the break between TITO and MAJIN. In answer to this question, POPOVIC advised that the break with MAJIN was complete and final and that under no circumstances would Yugoslavia again align herself with Russia. POPOVIC indicated to source that the allegiance with Moscow was merely a temporary thing which from the outset was an allegiance which Yugoslavia knew could not endure.

T-5 advised that his wife VJAKA is a very difficult person to get along with and possesses an extremely high opinion of herself. She is very impressed with her position as the wife of the Yugoslav Ambassador and continually refers to herself as being intellectually above those in her surroundings.

T-1, previously mentioned, advised that recently a Yugoslav national by the name of LOJOM DAVICO arrived in the United States aboard the Yugoslav ship the S.S. Hrvatska without possessing an American student visa. D.J. KOVIC, First secretary of the Yugoslav Embassy, was aware of the fact that DAVICO did not possess an American visa and ~~DAVICO~~ knew this while the Hrvatska was still on the high seas before it ever approached the shore of the United States. After the Hrvatska arrived in the United States, DAVICO was turned over to the Immigration and Naturalization Service authorities and was placed on Ellis Island. T-1 continued that when Ambassador POPOVIC learned of this he immediately gave instructions to the embassy personnel not to give a visa to any American officials wishing to enter Yugoslavia. This statement was made by POPOVIC and was made in a fit of anger and source contemplated the order would be rescinded. T-1 related that MILCO MULIC, Counselor at the Yugoslav Embassy who is actually in charge of all Yugoslav visas consulted with the Ambassador concerning this matter the following day and that following this conference the Ambassador's orders were rescinded.

T-1 advised that the above example was typical of the attitude of Ambassador POPOVIC concerning the rules and regulations of any delegated authority. POPOVIC frequently criticizes the rules and regulations set down by the United States Government and on the other hand considers every utterance he might personally make to be the law.

T-6, of known reliability, advised that LOJOM DAVICO, mentioned above, was not a desirable individual to have in the United States as he had been formerly linked with the Atomic Spy case in Canada. T-6 further advised that the Ambassador and other officials at the Yugoslav Embassy had indicated to the Department of State that they were not aware that DAVICO did not possess an American visa before departing from the shores of Yugoslavia.

T-7, of known reliability, subsequently advised that LOJOM DAVICO was subsequently released from Ellis Island and was permitted to enter Canada by the authority of the Canadian officials.

T-1 advised that Ambassador POPOVIC and his wife, VJANA, had been in frequent contact with a clothing store run by the Good Will Industries and that someone in this organization has put aside all the good second hand clothing received which in turn is picked up by the Embassy for further shipment to Yugoslavia. Source did not know the identity of the Ambassador's contact in the Good Will Industries other than it was a woman described as having blond hair.

T-7, of known reliability, advised that the Ambassador, his wife, VJANA, and his sister-in-law, SAHA POPOVIC, departed for New Orleans driven by the Ambassador's chauffeur, ANTON JUZO, on October 13, 1951. This party left for New Orleans as the Ambassador's sister-in-law, M.L.S., was to board the Riwatka for travel to Yugoslavia. M.L.S. was returning to Yugoslavia despite the fact that she was known to be seriously ill with what source believed to be a case of tuberculosis.

The same source advised that this party en route to New Orleans was to visit the Tennessee Valley Authority. This visit to the Tennessee Valley Authority was arranged through the cooperation of the Department of State.

1-8, of known reliability, advised that the Yugoslavian Embassy also made arrangements direct with the authorities of IVA in order to have this party make an inspection on their way to New Orleans.

Arrangements were made whereby Ambassador PUFOWICZ was to contact Mr. JOHN G. WILLIS, Office of the General Manager, Tennessee Valley Authority, Knoxville, Tennessee, at the Hotel Andrew Jackson at 11 A. M. on Sunday, October 14, 1951.

T-8 advised that Ambassador POPOVIC did contact JOHN FRANCIS at Knoxville and remained with him from 11 A. M. to 4 P. M. on October 14, 1951. Following his conference with Mr. FRANCIS, the Ambassador and his party were advised as to the most scenic route to Chattanooga and if they so desired a Mr. LARRY HALE, an official of TVA, would meet them at the Hotel Patton, Chattanooga, on Monday morning, October 15, 1951. Source continued that Ambassador POPOVIC did not keep his appointment with Mr. HALE and nothing further was heard of the party.

SOURCE continued that the Ambassador and his wife, V.J.M.A., while in Knoxville, appeared to be pleasingly impressed with the Tennessee Valley Authority project, but that the sister-in-law, H.M.A., was more concerned with talking the Communist Party line concerning conditions in the United States rather than showing an interest in the Tennessee Valley Authority project. H.M.A. continually brought up the subject of the treatment of the American negroes in the United States and was very desirous of going through and observing an American Indian reservation. The Ambassador and his party were advised that an alternate route to Chattanooga would enable them to visit an American Indian reservation and it was source's contention that the party in all probability took this alternate route to see the Indian reservation which would account for their not appearing at Chattanooga to meet Mr. and Mrs. H.M.A. on October 15, 1951.

T-8 advised that this was not the first time that the Yugoslav have shown an interest in TVA and that back in April, 1940, two Yugoslav engineers named MILOJEVIC and J. V. JO. LIPKOVIC visited TVA for approximately ten days. Source continues that this visit was also with the sanction of the Department of State and arrangements were made by those.

T-6, previously mentioned, advised that following this trip to Torrebeco Valley Authority, Ambassador POPOVIC had indicated to source that he was very appreciative of the fact that the State Department had made it possible for him and his party to tour USA and furthermore he found it very impressive.

T-7, previously mentioned, advised that during the months of August and September, Ambassador POPOVIC was closely following the events leading up to the arrest of the former Ustach leader ANDRIJUKOVIC. In this connection, Ambassador POPOVIC was maintaining frequent contact with JAVOROVIC, Yugoslav Consul at San Francisco, California. Source advised that it was interesting to note that Ambassador POPOVIC made it a point not to notify the Department of State prior to the time the note was handed to the United States authority on the West Coast demanding the arrest of ANDRIJKOVIC. Ambassador POPOVIC made it known to IVAC-NYC that the note concerning this matter would be handed over to the State Department immediately following the arrest of ANDRIJKOVIC. Both POPOVIC and JAVOROVIC were optimistic as to the outcome of the trial of ANDRIJKOVIC and were certain the United States Government would see fit to turn ANDRIJKOVIC over to the Yugoslavs.

On August 29, 1951, source advised ANDRIJKOVIC was placed under arrest and the Ambassador had made it known to source that information concerning this matter would be held up until the following day, August 30, 1951, before notifying the State Department.

T-1 and T-3 advised that the Ambassador and his wife, W.M., are presently engaged in making preparations for the Yugoslav national holiday celebration to be held at the Ambassador's residence on November 29, 1951. The Embassy expects this to be a gala celebration and a number of influential American officials along with Tito elements will be invited.
